GRADE LEVEL CRITERIA/ILLUSTRATIONS

The following examples illustrate some of the many combinations of situations, factors, and responsibilities in a SR-7 Automotive Service Writer position:

- Performs, under general supervision, difficult and responsible work.
- Guidelines for work are numerous and varied, making it difficult for the employee to choose the most appropriate instruction at times.
- Incumbents may review the work of others and give advice concerning procedural requirements. The degree to which this is done well affects the reliability and effectiveness of the department as a whole.
- Personal contacts are with employees within the department, in other departments, or with management or users or providers of department services. The employee provides information, explains the application of regulations, or resolves problems relating to the assignment, and decides how the various transactions are to be completed.
